George C. Gorham has seen the errors of his ways, has come out of the darkness into the light. In his last letter to the Chronicle he says:

The sentimentalism of 1867, to which I was earnestly devoted, and in proclaiming which I thought I was doing a great duty, has long since given way to the conviction that charity begins at home, and that no benefit we can confer on Chinese immigrants can compare with the injury inflicted upon our own civilization.

The various firms who advertise to forward upon receipt of fifty and sixty cents a bound volume of "Webster's Unabridged Dictionary" are pronounced by the special agents of the Postoffice Department to be impostors. It is said that the parties engaged in the business advertise under numerous aliases, and very seldom make any return for moneys received, and when a return is made it is a small book which can be purchased at retail for from ten to twenty-five cents.

An Albany (N. Y.) special says: The Argus of this city publishes reports of interviews with twenty-four Republican State Senators and a large number of Republican members of the Assembly on the presidential question. Among the Senators, eleven are for Grant, one for Sherman, one for Grant or Blaine, and eleven are non-committal. Among the members of the Assembly forty-three are for Grant, fourteen for Blaine, three for Sherman, four for Conkling, one for Garfield, and eighteen declined to express preferences.

The last transit of Venus occurred some four or five years ago, and as yet we have seen nothing definite as to the result of numerous observations made thereon. In December, 1892, there is to be another transit of Venus, the last for a hundred years to come, and that too will no doubt be well observed. But why this delay in making the announcement of the result? Cannot the astronomers make all needed calculations in five years? Leverrier declined to have anything to do with it on the ground that it could not be observed with sufficient precision to be of any special value—and, finding this to be true the astronomers may hesitate before giving to the public what they have learned.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS.

Both parties in the House manifest decided interest in the bill to ascertain and declare the result of Presidential elections, and there is a fair prospect that this question, so vitally important to the country, will be settled by the present Congress. The Bicknell bill has been reported and the 29th of January set for its consideration. The Republicans as well as Democrats desire to adopt some measure, and there is at present a strong disposition among the wiser men of both sides to perfect the present bill as far as possible and enact it into a law. The gist of the Bicknell bill is contained in section 8, which is in these words:

Section 8.—Congress shall be in session on the second Monday in February succeeding every meeting of the electors. The Senate and House of Representatives shall meet in the hall of Representatives at one o'clock, post meridian, on that day, and the President of the Senate shall be the presiding officer. Two tellers shall be previously appointed on the part of the Senate shall then open all the certificates and papers purporting to be certificates of the electoral votes. The votes shall then be counted by the two houses of Congress, in the alphabetical order of the States, as certified by the electors, unless rejected by both houses; but if in any State there is a controversy as to the appointment or eligibility of electors the decision thereof by its highest judicial tribunal shall be conclusive, and the vote shall be counted in accordance therewith, unless reversed by both houses, and if there be more than one judicial decision, each purporting to be by the highest court of the same State, the decision held by both houses to be that of the lawful tribunal shall be conclusive unless reversed by both houses. Where there has been a controversy in any State as aforesaid, and no such certificate had by both houses to be executed by the proper authority shall be conclusive unless rejected by both houses. Under the old twenty-second joint rule, the practice was that "no vote objected to shall be counted except by the concurrent vote of the two houses." In the present bill the vote of a State must be counted unless rejected by both houses, and the decision of a State court in the case of a disputed election is to stand unless reversed by both houses. This accords substantially with the measure so long, ably, persistently advocated in the Senate by the late Senator Morton.

THE MARCH TO THE SEA.

General W. T. Sherman, in a recent interview in the Cleveland Leader, is reported as making some objectionable charges against General H. V. Boynton, the correspondent in Chicago of the Cincinnati Gazette and author of a "Review of Sherman's War Memoirs." General Boynton publishes a card in which, after stating that General Sherman may feel mortified at the publication of the fact that Grant himself was the originator of the "march to the sea," says, as to Sherman's personal accusations: "I ask the privilege of saying through your journal to General Sherman, and so many of the public as take an interest in the matter, that I will select a tribunal and a form of action which, without inflicting any personal indignity, will afford him ample opportunity to establish the truth of his charges, or if he fail, will exhibit him to the world as a reckless slanderer."

CHINESE IMMIGRATION.

The Washington Evening Star, editorially noticing the favorable action of the House Committee on the bill to restrict Chinese immigration, says: "The members of Congress from the Pacific States are unanimously in favor of the bill. The question of parties does not enter into their support of this measure, and they unhesitatingly declare that no party can receive the electoral vote from the States they represent that opposes this bill. The newspapers of these States, without regard to party, reiterate this declaration, and in the face of the Presidential election it is easy to realize how much influence this announcement will have upon Congress. The States of California, Nevada and Oregon have twelve electoral votes; more than enough in a tolerably close contest to decide the choice of President." The Star is of opinion that the bill will pass the House; but, as Senators are not so free to express themselves upon pending measures as Representatives, the editor thinks it next to impossible to predict the fate of the measure in the Senate. He remarks: "Enough has been developed, however, to show that the old fight over the Chinese question is to be renewed, and that it will wax very warm before it is over."

A BIG DEAL IN C. P. R. R.

Jay Gould and Others Buy 50,000 Shares of the Stock—Another 50,000 to be Bought.

New York, Jan. 21.—The Tribune this morning publishes the following: A syndicate of prominent bankers, which includes also persons largely interested in the Wabash and Union Pacific railroad systems, has been formed for the purpose of buying a large block of Central Pacific stock. Negotiations for the purchase of the stock have been in progress during the last two weeks, but the contract was not completed until yesterday. C. P. Huntington, Vice President of the Central Pacific company, in behalf of himself and the other owners of the road, has sold to the syndicate 50,000 shares of the stock, and has given an option on 50,000 more. The price paid for the stock is understood to be 75, but a higher price, it is said, it to be paid for the second lot in case the syndicate shall take the option. This privilege extends over six months, but it is believed by members of the syndicate that it will be taken long before that time expires. Payment for the stock is to be made in cash and no change will be made at present in the management of the road. It is understood, however, to be probable that in case of the successful marketing of the stock the present transactions will be followed by others. No conditions in regard to the future purchase of stock and the management of the road have been included in the contract.

WHY THE SALE WAS MADE.

It is purely a cash transaction. The owners of the road have been induced to part with the stock in order to share with others the control of the company, believing that this divided control will add to the value of the property. Almost the entire stock of the company has been held by the original builders—Leland Stanford, C. P. Huntington, Charles Crocker and C. F. Crocker. It is said they consented to part of the sale of the stock in the belief that public attention would be attracted by this means to the value of the property.

WHO COMPOSE THE SYNDICATE.

The members of the syndicate which has secured this interest in the Central Pacific Railroad are R. P. Flower & Co., Prince & Whitely, Hatch & Coote, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Hallgarten & Co., May & King, Marx & Co., I. & S. Wermeier, Phillip Speyer & Co., Fisk & Hatch, Brewster, Sweet & Co. of Boston, William H. Travers, August Rutten, Morton, Blass & Co., Speyer Bros. & Co. of Holland, Russell Sage and Jay Gould. An executive committee consisting of R. P. Flower, J. D. Prince and J. D. Probst has been chosen to conduct the affairs of the syndicate. The stock will not be sold by subscription, but a portion of it will be offered early next week on the Stock Exchange. The stock has been on the list of the exchange for many years, but the dealings in it have been almost nothing for the reason that the stock was held in so few hands. It is the purpose of the committee to make the stock one of the active, stocks on the Exchange, and to this end a small amount will be offered, probably on Monday. One person who had been admitted to the syndicate yesterday sold his privilege at a very large advance. It was stated by prominent members of the syndicate that outside offers for part of the stock had been made at a price far above that to be paid under the contract. It was stated also that a broker had been authorized to offer a much higher price for control of the road. These offers have been refused by the present holders of the stock.

GRANT INDORSED IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean's special correspondence from Strother, South Carolina, says:

At a meeting of the old soldiers and planters at Mount Pleasant, January 10th, an organization was effected and resolutions unanimously adopted expressing the desire for a cordial fraternal Union in the country, and passed the following:

Resolved, That to effect this earnest desire we nominate General U. S. Grant and Senator Thomas Bayard as our standard-bearers for President and Vice President in the approaching Presidential election.

Resolved, We send greetings of peace and good will to all the land, and invite them to rally and organize themselves into "solid Union" clubs, and nominate Grant, and let us become one people, indivisible.

Reading Room.

The W. T. U. yesterday morning opened their reading room for the first time, in Winchel & Cunningham's hall. They will keep the latest papers and a large library of good books will be among the attractions. The ladies are determined to give the public a good place to spend the time, and there is certainly nothing better than a library. The arrangements are not all made yet but when they are they will be published.

Unpublished Testimony.

It is given as one of the reasons why Chantz was not pardoned that he himself, when called before the Board, boldly justified his conduct in shooting Ricker, pleading no extenuating circumstances, nor expressing any regret or remorse, and that McEwen bought the pistol for him on the same afternoon of the day of the killing.

Good Templars' Dance.

A neck-tie party will be given at Reform Club Hall Friday evening next, by the Good Templars of Reno. An enjoyable dance, with good music and pretty girls, and a first-rate supper, all for $1.50, will certainly induce a large attendance.

Ball at Washoe.

The Odd Fellows of Washoe will give a grand ball at Washoe on the evening of the 29th. There will also be a public installation of the newly elected officers of the Lodge. Tickets for the ball, including supper, $3.50.

All members of the Grand Army of Republic Post are requested to be present at the meeting next Monday evening. Applicants for admission to the new Post should apply to W. L. Bechtel.

E. A. Littlefield, editor of the Elko Post, arrived on the overland last night. He goes to Carson this morning. He starts for a trip East next Sunday or Monday.

The Lady Bryan was "sailed" on the boys. There is rock in the mine worth $1 per ton.

There are many who would like to see the character concert repeated.

Deputy State Treasurer Wright was in town yesterday.

The Lady Bryan "boom" collapsed yesterday.

That howling dog will howl no more.

The Character Concert.

Winchel & Cunningham's hall was crowded Tuesday evening with those who demonstrated by frequent and hearty applause, their full appreciation of the fine entertainment gotten up under the auspices of the Ladies Temperance Union. Every part of the programme was a complete success. Everything "ran smoothly" which is not often the case in entertainments of the kind, and the ladies really deserve great credit for their able management.

The concert opened promptly at half-past seven, with a solo by Master Claude Jaques. Dressed in ragged clothes, with a bundle of papers under one arm and the other stretched out to passers-by, he was the very picture of an average city newsboy. The curtain rising the second time discloses Mr. Nicholas sitting in a parlor waiting for the arrival of the young lady of the house, entertained meanwhile by a small sister of his sweetheart. This little lady (Kitty Loomis) innocently divulged their family affairs, and her sister's stratagems, in a way that would without doubt have hastened that person's toilet considerably, had she been within hearing. Finally Miss Mischief heard footsteps and expressing a wish to the young man that she could be present at their meeting so as to see whether she would kiss him as she did Tom L.—retired midst a terrible clapping.

Mrs. E. W. Hayden and Miss Effie Loomis, representing two old negro aunts, gave expression to their longing for their old home in Dixie, to the music of guitar and banjo. Being recalled they sang "The Yaller Gal Dressed in Blue," with perfect negro motions and dialect.

Mrs. Orylle Sessions sang "Flirting on the Street." Her acting was so natural that one couldn't doubt but that she understood what she was singing. Johnny Webber and Willie Murray, dressed as an old negro and his child, sang together "The Little Old Log Cabin in the Lane." They received an encore.

A duet followed in which Kittie Loomis and Ida Vallancourt personated a pair of Quaker lovers. Their costumes were cute, and both little ones did well. Miss Gertrude Peacock in a very pretty and becoming Highland dress, sang of her "true, true Robin." A lively interlude gave a chance for some graceful tripping over the stage.

The old song "Father, Dear Father, Come Home with Me Now" was made to seem almost too true. A temporary partition was erected, and the inside of two rooms pictured. In one, sat a poor mother, nursing a dying child. Every article in the room plainly showed it to be a drunkard's home—comfortless and sorrowful. The other was but an ordinary gin shop. A man in the utmost stupidity was sprawling over a table that held glasses and whisky. Near him, coaxing him, pleading with him, yes, and even trying with her puny arms to lift the wretch to his feet, stood his little daughter. It hardly seemed possible that the sad, ragged, desolate child was the same little Kitty Loomis who so short a time before had been before us in entirely different scenes. Mrs. Belle Hilliard and Mr. Laycock filled the other characters of this touching drama. Immediately after this a little brighter phase of the life of the same supposed family was delineated. Miss Louise Mosher represented the drunkard's child grown older and happier, and told the cause of her joy in the song "Father don't drink any more."

Miss May Tallman in the bewitching costume of a milkmaid, gave an idea of what those beautiful lasses are supposed to warble about "At five o'clock in the morning."

Mrs. R. P. Chapin gave the selection "Where art thou now my beloved." The idea of the piece was well portrayed in her music, dress and surroundings.

Mr. Nicholas came out and made the announcement that he was "A Bill Sticker." The words of the song were most comical and he ornamented the wall back of the stage to suit.

Widow Bedott's Tea Party created a sensation. Mrs. Jaques was the widow, who mourned unceasingly for "Hexekiah." Her visitors Mrs. Partington and Isaac, Miss Betsey Bobbitt, a spinster who was always longing for a partner, Josiah Allen's wife who in all good causes considered it necessary to "put her shoulder blades to the wheel," and Aunt Jerusha, a strong minded female woman with blue cotton umbrellas, were well represented by Mrs. Dr. Hutchins, Claude Jaques, Mrs. Flaagan, Mrs. Kimball and Mrs. Huyck.

Mrs. Hilliard and Mr. J. M. White sang "What are the wild waves saying?" with piano accompaniment by Benny Barnett. It is only necessary to say in commendation that the audience would not be satisfied without a second appearance.

One tableau, "The Outcast's Return," was effectively put upon the stage. Mrs. Dixon, Miss Loomis and Judge Cossitt sustained the several characters.

"The bell went a ringing for Sarah," and that much abused individual in the person of Flora McKay, put in an appearance. The paraphernalia of the servant girl was complete—hair partially pugged up, ragged dress revealing red flannel petticoat, pail, mop, broom, duster, brogue and all were there.

The concert closed with a most laughable (and a name for it if you can) by the company. They sang the dainty melody "Walkin' for dat cake." The Silver State Minstrels must look to their laurels.

The Society cleared about $85.

The Plutes to go to Oregon.

Secretary Schurz had a long conference with the Plutes Monday. It was definitely agreed upon in council—first, that old Chief Winnemucca should be permitted to return to the Malheur Reservation in Oregon with such of his people as may choose to go there; second, that upon their arrival the Indians are to take up land in severalty, each head of a family to select as a farm a particular tract of land; and third, that such of the Plutes as are now scattered throughout the white settlements at work, satisfactorily earning their own living, are to be permitted to remain.

Won't this result in throwing the Pyramid reservation open to settlement by the whites?

Republican State Central Committee.

A called meeting of this committee will be held at Pioneer Hall, Virginia, on Monday, February 23. A full attendance of members is requested, as business of importance will be transacted.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to return thanks for myself and family to the citizens of Reno, and the public in general, for the sympathy and respect shown to us in the hour of our affliction, and especially to the choir of the Methodist Church for their offices at the funeral of my boy. Jos. Farr.

The Carson Appeal says Clarke, the engineer who was so murderously assaulted on Sunday last, will go to Virginia as soon as he gets well enough and swear out complaints against his assailants.

The Nevada Social Club will give a grand soiree on Tuesday evening Jan. 27th, at the Nevada Theatre. Admission $1. Music by Kauffman's band.

The Davis Family are anxious to furnish music for some of dances, and think they can give better satisfaction for less money than anybody.

There are two red cows in the pound. The owner can have them by paying Constable Avery the charges.

The young men are organizing a social club, and purpose giving dances once in two weeks.

TREATS ALL
Chronic and Special Diseases.
YOUNG MEN
WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM THE effects of youthful follies or indiscretion will do well to avail themselves of this the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee a cure for every case of venereal disease or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.
MIDDLE-AGED MEN.
There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and the color will be of a thin milky hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of venereal disease. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genital urinary organs.
Office Hours—12 to 4 and 6 to 8. Sundays from 10 to 11 A. M. Consultation free. Thorough examination and advice, $5.
For private diseases of short standing a full course of medicine, sufficient for a cure, with all instructions, will be sent to any address on receipt of $10.
